

NOVEMBER 16–20 | WASHINGTON DC

LAW, JUSTICE AND DEVELOPMENT WEEK 2015

GOVERNANCE AND THE LAW

SPONSORS

Budapest Centre for the International Prevention of Genocide and Mass Atrocities

Ten Years of RtoP: The Way Ahead Implementation of a normative principle

This year, 2015, marks the tenth anniversary of the World Summit in which Member States embraced the Responsibility to Protect concept entailed in paragraph 138-139 of the Summit Outcome Document. This anniversary has been defined by Secretary General Ban Ki-moon as an “opportune moment” to analyze consensus reached to date around RtoP and discuss future implementation efforts. On this note, this session aims at shading light on the future implementation of RtoP and on the possibilities and prospects of a transatlantic cooperation on the responsibility to protect.

Monday

November 16, 2015

14:00 – 15:30 pm

Room MC13-121

World Bank | Washington DC

REGISTER

www.worldbank.org/ljdweekregister

MODERATOR

- Enzo Maria Le Fevre Cervini, Director of Research and Cooperation, Budapest Centre for the International Prevention of Genocide and Mass Atrocities

SPEAKERS

- Adama Dieng, UN Special Adviser to the Secretary General on the Prevention of Genocide
- Tod Lindberg, Research Fellow, Hoover Institution, Stanford University
- Lee Feinstein, Dean, School of Global and International Studies, Indiana University

Each year, Law, Justice and Development (LJD) week brings together World Bank Group staff, senior officials from other international financial institutions, international development practitioners, government officials, lawyers, judges, scholars and representatives from civil society. It also involves the collaboration and participation of the 154 international partners of the Global Forum on Law, Justice and Development (GFLJD). www.worldbank.org/ljdweek2015